Hi Professor !

Defiantly will stop by if your in Uni when everything opens up ! I'll be honest math was never my strong subject (still is progressing slowly) ,(multiple reasons) mainly lack of interest , and just professors who read off notes (yes explains theorems) but it never clicks in my head so I usually spent hours on YouTube, which is great but I also learned the same topic but with different methods we were not doing ect. I did not watch a single YouTube video !

If you are teaching Math 2130 next year , and if you remember can you give me a heads up and I'll try make my schedule next year around it.

Safe Journey !

Regards Nadith G
